

Department:

Practical Nursing

Course Description:

This course provides an integrative, family-centered approach to the care of childbearing women, newborns, and children. Students observe the uncomplicated birth process and practice postpartum care as well as care of the newborn in the clinical laboratory setting. Common pediatric diseases and the growth and development process is the focus of child-related clinical laboratory experiences.

Course Competencies:

Upon completion of the course, the student should be able to:

1. Perform a focused health assessment on childbearing women, newborns, children, and adolescents differentiating between expected and unexpected findings.
2. Assist in developing an evidence-based plan of care that is family- and health promotion-centered and includes cultural and age appropriate interventions for childbearing women, newborns, children, and adolescents.
3. Participate as a member of the health care team and client advocate while providing quality care that promotes client safety for childbearing women, newborns, children, and adolescents.
4. Apply a basic level of knowledge of pathophysiology, pharmacology, and nutrition, as well as evidence-based practice when providing care to childbearing women, newborns, children, and adolescents.
5. Use verbal and nonverbal communication that promotes therapeutic relationships with clients and their families, as well as professional relationships with members of the health care team.
6. Use information technology to access evidence-based literature and current trends, as well as communicate with members of the health care team, accurately documenting client care in a secure and timely manner.
7. Participate in identifying the health education needs of childbearing women, newborns, children, and their families, as well as reinforcing education provided by members of the health care team.
8. Report concerns related to client safety and delivery of quality care.
9. Use organizational and time management skills when providing care to childbearing women, newborns, children, and adolescents.
10. Adhere to ethical, legal, and professional standards while maintaining accountability for the care provided to childbearing women, newborns, children, and adolescents.

Guidelines for Requesting Accommodations Based on Documented Disability or Medical Condition

It is the intention of Highland Community College to work toward full compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, to make instructional programs accessible to all people, and to provide reasonable accommodations according to the law.

Students should understand that it is their responsibility to self-identify their need(s) for accommodation and that they must provide current, comprehensive diagnosis of a specific disability or medical condition from a qualified professional in order to receive services. Documentation must include specific recommendations for accommodation(s). Documentation should be provided in a timely manner prior to or early in the semester so that the requested accommodation can be considered and, if warranted, arranged.

In order to begin the process all students must complete the "Disabilities Self-Identification Form" on our Disability Services website.

This form can also be accessed at the Highland Community College homepage under Students Services/Student Resources/Disability Service or by contacting the Disabilities Coordinator.

A Note on Harassment, Discrimination and Sexual Misconduct

Highland Community College seeks to assure all community members learn and work in a welcoming and inclusive environment. Title VII, Title IX, and College policy prohibit harassment, discrimination and sexual misconduct. Highland Community College encourages anyone experiencing harassment, discrimination or sexual misconduct to talk to report to the Vice President for Student Services, the Human Resources Director or complete an online report about what happened so that they can get the support they need and Highland Community College can respond appropriately.

There are both confidential and non-confidential resources and reporting options available to you. Highland Community College is legally obligated to respond to reports of sexual misconduct, and therefore we cannot guarantee the confidentiality of a report, unless made to a confidential resource. Responses may vary from support services to formal investigations. As a faculty member, I am required to report incidents of sexual misconduct and thus cannot guarantee confidentiality. I must provide our Title IX coordinator with relevant details such as the names of those involved in the incident. For more information about policies and resources or reporting options, please review our Equity Grievance Policy.
